

Common Name: Lagundi

Scientific Name: Vitex negundo Linn.

Family: Lamiaceae

Distribution: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Cambodia, China, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Kenya, Madagascar, Malaysia, Mozambique, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, Sri Lanka, Taiwan, Tanzania, Thailand, and Vietnam

DAO/IUCN category: Least Concern

Description: Lagundi is a branched tree or shrub growing up to 5 meters high. It is widely distributed in the Philippines and a popular medicinal plant that used for its anti-inflammatory, astringent, anti-bacterial, antifungal, analgesic, antitussive, and rejuvenating properties.

Source: <http://www.stuartxchange.com/Lagundi.html>

Image Source: https://indiabiodiversity.org/files-api/api/get/raw/img//Vitex%20negundo/Vitex_negundo_1.JPG